WELCOME

Welcome to the 35th Annual Blue Mountain League Hall of Fame Induction Ceremony and Reunion. With the addition of tonight's 3 new inductees, our Hall of Fame now has 227 members.

Congratulations to the 2018 inductees:

Rocky Gencarelli

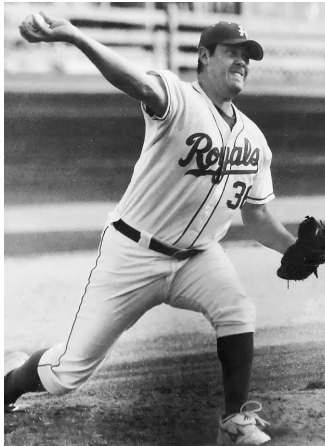

Chris Grynaviski

Jack Kinney

Rocky Gencarelli

Rocky played for the Hellertown Royals for the entirety of his 15 year Blue Mountain League career. In those years he compiled 57 wins. A perennial all-star, Rocky was always in the top echelon in the league of BML pitchers. Rocky won a Pitcher of the Year award as well as the Turoscy Formula award, honors that recognized him as the year's best pitcher in the league.

Rocky could always be counted on to start once or twice a week and go the distance which made him the consummate "bulldog on the mound."

2018 INDUCTEES

Chris Grynawiski

Chris Grynawiski was the shortstop for the Hellertown Royals dynasty who won five BML titles including four straight titles from 2009 to 2012. Although slight of build, Chris packed a heavy pop at the plate, being at or near the top of the homerun leaders annually. He played a sound shortstop and could make the great play when needed.

Another Hellertown perennial all-star, Chris has earned All League SS, MVP, and BML Batting Title honors.

Jack Kinney

Jack's active involvement and support of the Blue Mountain League spans over a 45 year timeframe. He played and co-managed for Martins Creek in the 1970's. After his playing years, he continued to remain active supporting the Martins Creek BML baseball franchise with numerous operations, finance, and fundraising roles.

Since he became a member of the Blue Mountain League Hall of Fame committee, in which he currently serves as secretary-treasurer, his dedication and efforts have proven to be invaluable. Jack characterizes BML players for their comradery, competitiveness, and overall passion for the game of baseball.

HALL OF FAME SELECTION PROCESS

Many times we are asked how we go about selecting the inductees to the Blue Mountain League Hall of Fame. First, we have set up rules and guidelines. They state:

"To be considered for selection, a nominee must have made an outstanding contribution to the BML as a player, coach, manager, umpire, league official or team official."

"All nominees shall have participated in the BML in some manner for a period of not less than five (5) years."

"A nominee may be selected for his contribution in one category even though he is still active in the League in another category. Players, to be selected, must be inactive as a player for at least five (5) years. Coaches, managers, league officials umpires and team officials may be selected while still active in the BML, provided they have participated in the League for at least ten (10) years."

Next, we set a limit on how many nominees we feel are appropriate to induct. We want to be sure to induct all those who are worthy, but on the other hand, we do not wish to induct too many in any given year.

Nominations are then solicited from the Committee, the League and the general public. Nominations are welcome at any time, and they are kept on file for at least five years. Every year, we receive more and more nominations to add to those we have received in the past.

Finally, every nominee's record of contributions is carefully researched and discussed. The merits of each nominee is debated. Then, and only then, does the committee make its selections.
